Strong comeback with physical presence

Recent events confirm that the market still needs physical exhibitions since they are the most important forums for the development of trade contacts and cannot be substituted by any other form of actions and activities.

FOOD EXPO, the largest Food & Beverage trade show in Southeast Europe and one of the most significant of its kind internationally, is staging a strong comeback between 12-14 March 2022, at the Metropolitan Expo exhibition center! Featuring 1,350 exhibitors from Greece and the rest of the world and 3,500 key food traders, FOOD EXPO 2022 is consolidating its leading position in the wider region of Southeast Europe, while further strengthening its international reach.

250 major businesses, putting their trust in the dynamic of the trade show, will participate with the same stands they had at the now cancelled –due to Covid-19– 2020 iteration of the fair.

FOOD EXPO is the most important trade show for the Food & Beverage industry in Greece and contributes to the int'l outreach of companies in the sector.

Spiliot Livanos / Minister of Rural Development & Food

Extroversion is a clear priority for our industry. That's why SEVT, recognizing its importance for the food sector, will be present in FOOD EXPO 2022.

Evangelos Kaloussis / Chairman of SEVT

FOOD EXPO is making a dynamic comeback with a physical event, and we will all be there to support the most important sector of the Greek economy.

The show's digital platform

The resounding success of FOOD EXPO Digital 2021 proved that a well-organised online platform can act as an additional service to the physical trade show. The digital platform of FOOD EXPO 2022 will be activated 10 days after the end of the bricks and mortar exhibition and will allow visitors –mainly international buyers– who are unable to attend the event, to get in touch with the exhibitors.

New sectors

Organic food is one of the fastest growing sectors internationally. Responding to market trends, FOOD EXPO is launching a new, special section with organic products.

The increased demand for fresh fruit and vegetables from Greek and international buyers, has led to the creation of a new sector for these products.

Greek F&B sector The day after

The Food & Beverage industry has been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic; However, as things are slowly getting back to a new normal, fresh business models are emerging, and opportunities are starting to pop up. The Greek F&B sector has withstood the challenge and has been recording strong exports all along the crisis, while imports are also picking up. Not to mention that retail is reporting a 5.4% increase in turnover for the first half of 2021.
