UK CONSTRUCTION WEEK WELCOMES OVER 34,000 TRADE BUYERS AND 600 EXHIBITING COMPANIES

UK Construction Week combines 9 shows under one roof and is the UK's biggest event for the built environment covering design, planning and construction. The event showcases thousands of innovative products and features, 300+ hours of inspirational debate, quality education and invaluable business advice across four halls in the heart of the UK, at Birmingham's NEC.

“The UK construction week at NEC Birmingham was simply perfect. From the placement to the steady flow of trades people over all 3 days again really hit the mark, giving me an easy return of my investment. The team were top notch with nothing being too much trouble.”

Duncan Heenan | National Accounts Manager, TradePoint

WHY VISITORS ATTEND UKCW

To source new products and suppliers

To network with suppliers and visitors

To talk to product experts/technical staff

“ For CEMEX, UKCW is a fantastic place for us to meet both existing and potential new customers, where they can experience our products and materials first hand and have a level of interaction that is not possible through other platforms. There is an extremely wide range of people visting this show and over the 3 days we see everyone from major contractors, local government through to small builders and self-builders. It is great to see the show growing and evolving every year since the start and we are proud to have UKCW as Cemex’s flagship show. ”

James Fairclough | European Director of Marketing, Cemex
